DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 8-10, 12, 13, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Specifically in lines 3 and 4 of claim 1, "the medium" is indefinite because it lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 8, 9, 13, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ohira et al (US 5,748,607). As per claim 8, Ohira et al shows in figure 2 a recordable disc 42 a first area 8 in which information can be recorded optically on one side of the disc 42. The first area 8 is configured such that the information can be written onto the disc 42 by irradiating the first area 8, and a second area 9 in which visual information can be recorded on another side. Ohira et al also discloses in column 3, lines 25-47 and depicts in figure 5 the second area 9 configured such that an image pattern can be written onto the disc 42 by irradiating the second area 9. Ohira additionally shows in figure 2 that the first area 8 and the second area 9 sides are visually distinguishable from each other.

Art Unit: 2652

As per claim 9, Ohira et al shows in figure 2 that the first area 8 includes a first recording layer, and the second area 9 includes a second recording layer with both recording layers being made of different materials. As per claim 13, Ohira et al shows in figure 2 the visual information being a visual image pattern comprising text or a design. As per claim 20, Ohira et al shows in figure 5 that the visual information can be recorded on the second area 9 by a computer or audio device based on intent of a user. As per claim 21, Ohira et al discloses that information can be written in said first area 8 only one time and in said second area 9 only one time.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2652

5. Claims 10, 12 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ohira et al (US 5,748,607) in view of Tsutomu (JP 59-215892). Taira et al discloses the claimed invention. See the description, supra. However, Taira et al is silent as to the first and second recording layers are made of different organic dye material; both the first and second areas being re-writable and a material in which a chemical change is caused by a given heat, such as a cyanine based organic dye and/or an azo based organic dye.

Tsutomu shows and discloses the recording layer being formed from either one of a cyanine based organic dye and an azo based organic dye.

It would have been obvious to a person having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the recording layer of Kozo et al with either one of a cyanine based organic dye and an azo based organic dye as taught by Tsutomu. The rationale is as follows: one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have been motivated to provide a recording layer with either one of a cyanine based organic dye and an azo based organic dye to "obtain a recording medium having excellent light resistance and a high reflectance". See the Abstract of Tsutomu.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 2652

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
